

Strategic Fundraising Advisor
Pro bono / volunteer opportunity

What NDT are looking for?

We are seeking an experienced professional to develop a fundraising approach to match our new 5-year strategy. This is a short-term volunteer role pivotal to helping NDT establish a more sustainable income model.

This is perfect for

- Someone with experience in a large international charity or not-for-profit organisation, looking to help a smaller up and coming charity.
- Someone with experience in small to medium-sized charities with diverse purposes and missions, looking to practise and apply their transferable skills.
- A senior fundraiser with a passion to give back, flexible availability or looking for strategic experience.

Primary objective

Develop the new fundraising strategy and an action plan which can be handed to the core team and their volunteer network to deliver. NDT needs to raise its profile within a competitive charity market, connect with and nurture longer term funding partnerships, and have an approach which can flex according to its operational demands.

Commitment

5-10 hours per month for 3-6 months.

All work is remote as NDT operate from multiple locations across the UK and Africa.

Available for 20 minutes once a week to liaise with the core UK team.

Skills and experience

Ideal

Designed or delivered fundraising strategies

Created or managed innovative new income channels

Driven or led income generation campaigns

Successfully held senior management positions

Desirable

Charity or not-for-profit experience

B2B stakeholder management

Led fundraising, marketing, campaign or engagement teams